Message from the Chairman of the IWSF World Barefoot Council

Welcome to Adna and the beautiful Lake Silverado Barefoot Club. Everyone said that this site was one of the sweetest we'd ever see, well now you know why.

It's been 25 years since the World Barefoot Championships last came to the western United States. A quarter of a century ago almost to the day, we were down in San Francisco at Marine World Africa. Brett Wing came away as our World Overall Champion and together with his fellow Australian team members, secured the team gold as well. It'd be interesting to know how many of us were there then and are with us now. I can think of a few. How many do you know?

It's great to be back, and together with our hosts and my colleagues on the WBC, it's a privilege to welcome you to the 7th World Junior, 5th World Senior and 15th World Open Barefoot Water Ski Championships. These really are the World Barefoot Water Ski Championships!

This week marks another first for our Sport; the first ever combined World Barefoot Championships. My congratulations go to the Local Organising Committee (LOC), led by Dianne & Doug Jordan and their team for having the tenacity, drive and ambition to take on what has been a mammoth task. You will all share in the fruits of the wonderful work that has been going on here on our behalf for the past 17 months. Just remember how hard they have worked to enable us to revel and enjoy in what is always a truly amazing experience – being part of a Worlds. Tell them how much you appreciate the fact that we are all here because of their tireless efforts. Join me in thanking them again and again....

We have all made many sacrifices to be here; taken the kids out of school, taken time off from work, travelled thousands of miles, emptied bank accounts, loaded up credit cards; the list goes on and on, but I can tell you that in the short time that we are here, all those sacrifices will be worth it. Make sure every single one of you enjoys the experience to the full so that you never forget the brilliant time you have here in the beautiful state of Washington.

I welcome our IWSF Barefoot Water Ski Officials. Like the LOC and their team, our officials will also be working hard from around 7am through till around 7pm each and every day of the Championships. They have a very important job to do here, for you and for the sport. They make those same sacrifices too so join me in saying thank you to them. Some of their decisions may be tough to accept, but remember that each and every one of them gives entirely impartial, unbiased and fair judgements every time, for each and every competitor.

My thanks to the townships of Adna and Olympia for hosting us so proudly and to all the championship sponsors and service providers whose support and input is vital for an event like this to succeed. It couldn't happen with you.

I wish all our competitors the very best of luck this week. Training time is over. It's time to deliver the goods. Go and do just that, for you, for your team and for your country. Ski clean and make sure our fans and spectators have plenty to cheer about when you're out there on the water.

Have a great time everyone.

Andy Harris

WELCOME TO THE WORLDS

It is with great pleasure that I welcome skiers, spectators and officials on behalf of the International Water Ski Federation at the 2006 Barefoot Water Ski World Championships. For the first time all age categories are competing at the same event and this will be certainly an interesting experience for all involved.

The World's best Barefooters will create a spectacular competition over these days and I am sure everybody will enjoy the acrobatic thrills on the wonderful Lake Silverado.

Tremendous work has been undertaken by USA Water Ski and the organizer Silverado Sports to prepare a great Championships for the both the athletes and spectators.

I wish all the skiers good luck and great success and I thank you all for sharing the excitement of Barefooting with us in the "Evergreen State" Washington.

Kuno Ritschard
President IWSF

Welcome All

On behalf of the American Barefoot Club I want to extend a warm welcome to all skiers, officials and team support staff. We all hope you enjoy your stay in the US and can find time in your schedules to enjoy the beautiful Northwest.

To the skiers, we wish you all the best. Let us not forget, however, the words of the "Barefooters Prayer" which states, "...there are winners, those who do not meet their expectations, but there are no losers." It is the positive attitudes alluded to in this statement that makes our sport great.

I would ask that you please take time to thank Doug Jordan and his LOC for the hard work they have done in preparing for the first ever Combined World Barefoot Championships.

Finally, I hope you all have a wonderful time renewing old friendships and building new ones. Many of you I have not seen since Fergus Falls in 2000. I am looking forward with great anticipation to seeing and/or meeting all of you.

Again, on behalf of the American Barefoot Club, we wish you all the best and if there is anything we can do to make your visit more enjoyable, do not hesitate to ask.

Doug Koch
ABC President

Welcome to the 2006 World Barefoot Water-ski Championships!

The World Barefoot Water-ski Championships is where athletic skill, extreme balance and skier determination meet at the highest level of competition. These athletes train in many different conditions, in various and distant parts of the globe, but all come together today in the small town of Adna, Washington to show the world how they do it in their town.

The Chehalis Indian tribe and south sound cities of Centralia, Chehalis, Adna and Olympia have come together to help us welcome these top athletes to Lake Silverado and introduce barefooting to the residents of this great area of Washington state. We built Lake Silverado nearly fifteen years ago with the interest of creating a world class training facility to prepare ourselves for these types of events and so it was with great honor that we accepted the invitation to host the World Championships. The requirements of a good barefoot tournament are smooth consistent water, fast boats and an energetic, enthusiastic, LOUD crowd. Lake Silverado provides the great water, Sanger and Gekko boats provide the second component and if you, the crowd, can come through with a rebel yell to bring the skiers to their highest we will surely have a memorable world championships for all those who have traveled so far to be with us .

Barefooting is a combination of balance, strength, and speed which when done right is an athletic feat so graceful it brings awe to the viewer, when done wrong brings a gasp of disbelief as the fall generated by the physical forces of speed and water send a skier like a rag doll thrown, tumbling and flipping in unimaginable contortions. We have pet names for these falls that all barefooters know only too well: The stinger, the scorpion, the eye-peeler, all performed unwillingly when the balance and the grace escape us. We hope that there are few examples of these and many examples of the best barefooters at their highest capability.

We welcome all the athletes to America, to Lake Silverado, Washington, and we invite them to bring the best of their world to ours.

With best regards and best of luck for a fantastic result at the 2006 World Barefoot Water-ski Championships,

Doug & Dianne Jordan
Eric & Tenley Cederstrand
and all of Team Silverado

CRASH TERMINOLOGY

- Eye Peeler
  - Face First Crash in the water where your eyelids peel back and fill with water. Pain level: 6
- Scorpion
  - Face First Crash with your Chin up! Your back arches, and your feet come up and whack you in the back of the head. Usually 5 or 6 vertbre pop. Pain level: 9 and a trip to the chiropractor
- Backwards Whipper
  - Catching your heel while skiing backwards. Your feet fly out from under you and there is a moment of silence before the back of you head meets up with the water. Pain level: 6 and a bit of whiplash
- Steve Austin
  - Any high speed whack where you slide, bounce, skip and spin before you dig in like a 747 hitting the desert. Pain level: 7 but it looks like a 10
- Starfish
  - Head, Feet, Head, Feet, While the arms and legs flap like a rag in the wind. Pain level: 8 and usually a pulled shoulder
- Day Ender
  - Just like it sounds. We never know what went wrong. We just get back in the boat, because the day is over. Pain Level: 9 Go get a beer
- The Chicken
  - The Non-Crash. One lets go of the rope because "There was water in my face" or I got scared and didn't want to crash". Pain Level: 0 Chicken!
- The Wishbone
  - Usually happens while doing toe turns or trying to impress the girls. One foot catches in the water and pulls you out like a wishbone. Pain Level: 9 and two weeks of Physio
- The Slide
  - A missed trick, or an unknown wipe out where you gently slide across the water to a smooth stop. (This is rare) Pain Level: 1 and feeling very, very lucky
- The Body Slap
  - Trying to do something cool for a photo, Surf Shorts, sunglasses, and no shirt. Then you crash. It stings like a thousand bees...and no warranty on your sunglasses

BAREFOOT WATER SKIING HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION

Although barefoot slalom, tricks and jumping water ski events are very similar to traditional events, the major difference here is, you guessed it, participants do not wear skis. In the slalom event, an athlete earns points for crossing the boat wakes in a course that does not have buoys. In tricks, an athlete attempts to perform as many tricks as he can during two 15-second passes. Each trick has a pre-assigned point value and an athlete may perform each trick only once. The athlete who earns the most points wins the event. In the jumping event, the ramp height is only 18 inches (45.5 centimeters), but the boat speed is more than 40 miles per hour, which is feet-burning fast! Faster boat speeds are required for an athlete to plane on his two bare feet. There are no hand tools needed to make barefoot equipment repairs, only a tube of super glue. If a blister or cut opens on the bottom of an athlete's foot, standard procedure is to glue it shut now to finish skiing and deal with the stitches later. In addition to slalom, tricks and jumping, barefoot athletes also participate in figure eight competitions and endurance events where the athlete who stays up the longest is the winner. Barefoot water skiing began in Florida as a recreational activity in the late 1940s and was quickly introduced into the water ski shows at Cypress Gardens, Fla. Interest in barefooting grew, and in 1961 USA Water Ski organized the American Barefoot Club (ABC). Today, the ABC is a sport division of USA Water Ski, the national governing body for the sport of water skiing in the United States. Originally, membership in the ABC was reserved for barefooters who could stay on their feet for a minimum of 60 seconds. The barefoot craze spread overseas, becoming especially popular among the Australians, who eventually organized the first barefoot tournaments. They were patterned after conventional competition, with an added discipline called "start methods," which has since been discontinued. Today, barefooting is a world-wide sport recognized by the International Water Ski Federation, the world governing body of water skiing. A World Championships is held every two years. The U.S. Barefoot Water Ski Team has won the Team World Championship title 10 consecutive times – 1986 in Kelheim, West Germany; 1988 in Melbourne, Australia; 1990 in Jacksonville, Fla.; 1992 in London, England; 1994 in Sydney, Australia; 1996 in Fergus Falls, Minn.; 1998 in Sydney, Australia; 2000 in Fergus Falls, Minn.; 2002 in Wallsee, Austria, and 2004 in Mulwala, Australia. In the United States, USA Water Ski sanctions more than 50 barefoot tournaments each year. The Barefoot Water Ski National Championships, held each August, attracts more than 150 of the nation's top barefooters who compete for event and overall medals.

The Barefoot Events

Barefoot water ski events – wake slalom, tricks and jumping. Differences arise in the speed of the boat and sometimes faster, with a top speed for the Open Division jump ramp (18 inches as compared to five or six feet for differences in the equipment on the ski course. In wake slalom, the skier starts on the first wake wave to the outside of the second, for crossing the 15-second pass is terminated. Crossings can be backward. Point values increase for the more difficult scored by judges in much the same manner. In jumping, the takeoff edge of the ramp is approximately 18 inches above the water line. Jumpers must step off a ski prior to reaching a step-off buoy, located 165 feet before the ramp. Barefooters for Open competition are and jumping – are similar to the three events in traditional water skiing (depending upon age division, barefoot events are of 43.2 mph), in the lack of buoys in slalom, and the height of the traditional jumping). The absence of skis more than makes up for the slalom, points are awarded for full crossing from the outside of the one wave only, and for straddling a wake wave at the moment made on one foot or both feet, the barefooter facing forward or methods. Barefoot tricks runs are 15 seconds in length and are as those in conventional tricks skiing. In barefoot approximately 18 inches above the water line. Jumping distance requirements to qualify 35 feet for women and 50 feet for men.

The American Cancer Society is leading the way in the fight against breast cancer.

- Breast cancer is the most frequently diagnosed cancer in women and the second leading cause of cancer death in women after lung cancer.
- The five-year relative survival for breast cancer that has not spread to the lymph nodes or other locations has increased from 80 percent in the 1950s to 98 percent today. Recent declines are attributed to a combination of early detection (mammography) and improvements in treatment.
- The American Cancer Society invests more in breast cancer research than any other voluntary public health organization. To date, we have funded more than $290 million in breast cancer research grants, resulting in the development of new lifesaving breast cancer treatments.
- We advocate for all women to have access to life-saving screening tests and treatment, regardless of income.
- We were one of the first to promote mammography to detect breast cancer early, when it is most treatable.
- We offer free programs for patients and families and have offices in more than 3,400 communities across the country to provide assistance when and where people need help.
- We are here 24/7/365 through 1-800-ACS-2345 and www.cancer.org with information and resources to empower everyone to fight this disease.

This tournament would not be possible if not for the many sponsors who support our effort of bringing the best of the World to Washington. Please take a moment to thank each of the sponsors for their products given to the athletes, their time promoting the event and their financial support of the Barefoot World Championships. We are grateful for the assistance you give us in making this a fantastic tournament for all involved.
