2016 World Championships!

Welcome athletes, coaches, managers, families, and friends to the Blue Moo and the 2016 Barefoot Waterski World Championships. Western Wisconsin is referenced by many as God's Country with the beautiful green topiary and rolling hills that dot the landscape with every turn of the road. Wisconsin is also recognized around the world as America's Dairyland. Dairy farming is the largest industry in the state. You will see dairy barns across the landscape, as Wisconsin is the highest cheese producing state in the United States as well as being home to the 2016 World Cheese Champion.

The Minnesota Barefoot Association and the Heller Family are excited to be able to welcome everyone to Wisconsin to barefoot on our true "Field of Dreams." The Blue Moo was a cornfield just a little over a decade ago. When then Heller Family built the Blue Moo in 2005 it was designed to be a World Class designation for Barefoot Waterskiing. The Blue Moo is no stranger to big events as it has hosted 20 local regional tournaments and 5 US National Championships.

On behalf of the American Barefoot Club, Minnesota Barefoot Association, and the entire Heller Family, I would like to personally thank everyone for taking the time, dedication, and financial support to make this World Championships the best event it can be. Moreover, I would like to thank the Minnesota Barefoot Association for their constant support and dedication to putting on top tier tournaments for the United States and World here in Wisconsin.

This year's World Championships will be the first time the jump finals will be under the lights with live music. The Elite finals will be a late afternoon and night event and party all in one. This is designed to enhance the spectator experience and the experience of the skiers. We do hope you enjoy the new format.

So with no further ado, please enjoy your stay here in scenic Western Wisconsin. Take the time to check out the many local attractions that will lead you deeper into nature. The area is filled with many breweries and wineries that have daily tours and tastings. The Eau Claire area is filled with many great restaurants and shops that are unique to the area and our culture.

Good Luck and Enjoy Wisconsin!

The Blue MOO
Barefoot Waterskiing

Welcome to the 2016 WBC World Championships!

I am excited to welcome all of the competitors and officials to the beautiful Blue Moo Lake, here in Wisconsin.

This lake was built and designed especially for barefoot waterskiing. Its 860 metre long stretch and 4-8 metre banks, makes this the perfect venue for our 30th Barefoot Waterskiing World Championships.

This event has brought the best skiers in the world to compete for gold for their teams, and as individuals. Years of training, hard work and dedication has led to the opportunity for the competitors to represent their countries at the highest level possible. Many of these competitors have had the help and support of family, friends, boat crews, coaches and trainers, who have given endless hours to help make the skiers World Championship dream possible.

This, the 30th Barefoot Waterskiing World Championships has brought, from across the globe, the highest possible standard of officials and I am honoured to have been given the privilege to work with such a gifted team of officials who are so passionate about their sport.

As Chief Judge it is my goal to deliver an event at the highest standard possible and to provide to our dedicated skiers a standard of judging and performance greater than their expectations along with outcomes that deliver an accurate account of their performance. I look forward to watching all the skiers perform over the coming week, and wish you all the best of luck.

Geoff Blaauw

Chief Judge

It is with great pleasure that I welcome everyone to the 20th World Barefoot Championships. This is also the 12th Junior World Championships and the 10th Senior World Championships.

First and foremost, many thanks to Blake Heller for having the vision and commitment to purpose-build the "Blue Moo Lake". Right from the first shovel of dirt, the hosting of a World Barefoot Waterski Championships here at this World Class venue has been a given.

On behalf of the World Barefoot Council and our world wide community of barefoot water skiers I extend warm and sincere thanks to the entire Heller Family and the Minnesota Barefooter's Association for taking on the immeasurable task of hosting the world and this event.

Very special thanks go out to Paul Adams - the Tournament Director. His countless hours and unwavering dedication has produced these World Championships that will exceed all expectations.

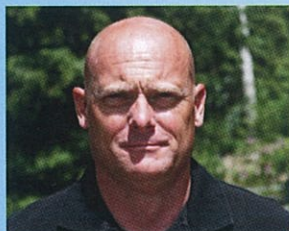

A further heartfelt thank you goes to every individual involved with the organization of this event, right from the officials and management team to the countless valuable volunteers who have been working many long months to deliver these championships to the world! All of your efforts are greatly appreciated, not only by everyone that has come to enjoy the on-site hospitality but also by those participants and supporters of our sport who are unable to be here to join with us in celebrating your success.

I have been fortunate enough to have been at 16 of the 20 World Barefoot Waterski Championships. Through those great experiences one consistent opportunity that our sport offers has been very clear. The ability for all of our spectators to meet and greet as well as get to know the top athletes in the world. I urge everyone in attendance to take advantage of this unique aspect our "playing field". You will leave this event with cherished memories, new friends and maybe even some future travel plans with "no shoes required"

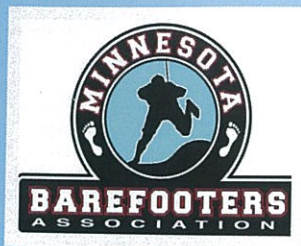

Sincerely,

Richard Gray

Chairman - World Barefoot Council

 The first round is a combined elimination round. This may result in a low seeded senior skiing in the same event as a low seeded junior, or a high seeded opens skier skiing in the same event as an equally high seeded junior. This round will determine which skiers qualify for the second round. This is in accordance with rule 1908 of the 2016 Barefoot Water Ski Technical Rules.
